

Duke of Burgundy Butterfly

Hamearis lucina

Duke of Burgundy caterpillars like to feed on primroses and cowslips.

These butterflies are threatened in the UK, but you can see them at Gait Barrows in the AONB.

Duke of Burgundy butterflies are brown with orange spots and a white spotty trim along the edges of their wings.

Meadow Makers