

Yellow Meadow Ants

Lasius flavus

Yellow meadow ants spend most of their life underground, where they feed on honeydew produced by aphids, which they 'farm' on grass roots.

They make ant hills in grassland habitats.

As their name suggests, they are usually a yellow-brown colour.

Meadow Makers